

Homework – using the resources from M1 and M2

- Choose a case to study from your team coaching experience. A case you are currently involved in, a case from your past, or a case you would like to be a part of. It must be a real team and not imagined team.
- Choose an element of PERILL
- Choose an aspect of that element
- Look at that aspect of an element in relation to the other elements (complex adaptive systemic approach)
 - Example: Element: Internal Processes; Aspect = Decision Making
 - How is Decision Making influenced by or influence Purpose and Motivation?
 - What are the External Processes that impact decision making?
- How do Relationships impact Decision Making? (internal and External and in the team)
- What other Internal Processes are at play?
- How do the systems of Leadership on our team interplay with Decision Making?
- In what way do the Learning Systems of the team and team members enable or inhibit the kind of Decision Making we need to aspire to?
- And then prepare to present how would you create a conversation that takes into account how the patterns that emerge from your PERILL reflections
- You may choose to work with a Team Coaching partner if you like!
